

School of Education

The School of Education offers a Bachelor of Education degree program that builds on the student's background in science, mathematics and computer science.

In the field of education, the program is designed to be analytical, practical and comprehensive. It prepares students for the field of education. In addition, it provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences.

The program is designed to provide a solid foundation in all effective teaching practices and a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences.

The School of Education offers a Bachelor of Education degree program that is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences (K-5), middle and secondary (6-12), and foreign language (French).

The program is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences. It is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences. It is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences.

A. Admission to Education

Admission to the program is limited. A major factor in the admission process is the minimum academic achievement. A strong academic record is required. Evidence of foreign language proficiency, bilingual ability, and academic excellence are also considered. The program is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences. It is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences.

1. Applicants (minimum 120 credit hours) must be accepted into the program. The program is designed to be a comprehensive program. It provides a strong background in the liberal arts and sciences.
2. A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.7 and a minimum of 2.7 in the last 60 credit hours are required.
3. Teachable: 30 credit hours in a Liberal Arts teachable subject area and 24 credit hours in a Liberal Arts teachable subject area and 18 credit hours in an additional Liberal Arts teachable subject area. Teachable subject areas may be found at www.southalabama.edu.

French Second Language Guidelines: